Driving to a Cleaner Future

- Fleet vehicles are an incredibly important piece of our modern society and economy
  - They deliver our packages, perform vital services, and connect us to people across the state, country, and globe
- The industry is shifting away from fossil fuel vehicles
  - Emissions contribute to climate change and harm public health
  - An increasing number of these vehicles are now available in cleaner and zero-emission forms

Ecology: Clean Truck Policies

Advanced Clean Trucks

- Adopted in 2021

Heavy-Duty Low NOx Omnibus

- Adopted in 2022

One-Time Fleet Reporting

- Adopted in 2022

One-Time Fleet Reporting

Who must report?

Fleets with 5+ vehicles over 8,500 lbs. GVWR

Brokers that dispatch 5+ vehicles over 8,500 lbs. GVWR

Any fleets with corporate revenues exceeding $50 million

This includes government and commercial fleets

Rule language here: WAC 173-423-083

What information is being collected?

Number, type, and age of vehicles

Where vehicles are located

Vehicle characteristics and uses

What will this information be used for?

Understanding what kinds of vehicles Washingtonians rely on for their businesses

Better designing Ecology's policies to serve businesses that rely on these vehicles

Is anyone exempt from reporting?

Yes, there are three exemption categories:

- Vehicles exempt from Ecology's emission standards under WAC 173-423-030
  - E.g. military vehicles, vehicles sold for out-of-state registration and use
- Authorized emergency vehicles
  - Police vehicles, ambulances, fire trucks, etc.
  - RCW 46.04.040: Authorized emergency vehicle. \(wa.gov\)
- Vehicles awaiting sale do not need to report

I'm a fleet manager and my fleet is required to report. How do I report?

1. Begin by making a SAW Account
2. Register for the Air Quality Portal within SAW
3. Add the Fleet Reporting Platform to your account
